CONFIDENTIAL

Certification and Business Record of Cellebrite Inc.

CBFL Case Number: 00266453

I, (b)(5)(B) certify the following:

1. I am the CBFL Administrator for Cellebrite Inc. ('Cellebrite') in the Americas.
2. I am familiar with, and oversee Cellebrite's processes and procedures concerning the intake, processing, and return of mobile devices provided by Cellebrite customers to Cellebrite for work.
3. On or about 12/11/18 Cellebrite was engaged by San Diego County Sheriff's Department (the 'Requesting Entity') to determine the passcode for a Samsung GSM SM-J737T Galaxy J7 Star with (IMEI: 359797/09/047989/8 ; Device Serial Number: (b)(5)(B)) (the 'Device'), and perform a forensic extraction of the data contained on the Device.
4. On or about 1/3/19, Cellebrite received a package via UPS, with tracking number 1ZAA18078725467631, from the Requesting Entity. I then performed a normal intake process by opening and inspecting the package, confirming that the package contained the Device, and delivering the Device to the Forensic Specialist assigned to the matter.
5. On or about 01/08/2019, using Cellebrite's trade secrets, proprietary and confidential software, techniques, and equipment, the Forensic Specialist was able to determine the passcode of the Device, and make a forensic copy of the data contained on the Device. The Forensic Specialist copied the data of the Device onto an encrypted Drive (the 'Drive'). A .ufd file was also loaded to help open the image of the Device's data on the Drive.
6. On or about , the Forensic Specialist placed the Device in a sealed Cellebrite evidence bag. The forensic copy of the data contained on the Device was placed on the Drive. I then packaged everything into a transport kit which was then shipped to the Requesting Entity via ups with tracking number 1ZAA18070202277477.
7. Prior to securing the Device and the Drive in the sealed Cellebrite evidence bag, the Forensic Specialist compared the hash values associated with the data of the Device with the hash values associated with the data on the Drive and determined that the hash values matched.
8. Cellebrite did not examine the applications on, or the data of the Device. Nor did Cellebrite alter any of the applications on, or the data of the Device.
9. From on or about 1/3/19 through the return of the Device on or about , at no time did the Device leave the custody or control of Cellebrite.
10. After receipt of the Device, the Customer can log into Cellebrite's secure Portal to access and acknowledge receipt of the Device, at which time the passcode for the Device is provided to the Customer.
11. This Certification and the information referenced herein constitutes a record of regularly conducted activity by Cellebrite, because making this record is a regular practice of the regularly conducted activity, and this record is also made at or near the time of the regularly conducted activity in the ordinary course of business by Cellebrite personnel with knowledge of these matters. In addition, this business record is kept in the course of a regularly conducted activity of Cellebrite.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. Executed on 04/18/2019.
